

BLISSFUL CAREERS

Your Geo Astrology Reading

Where the map of the sky meets the map of the earth

Before you begin

This reading helps you see yourself more clearly. It does not tell you where you must go.

Geo astrology, also called astrocartography, takes your birth chart and stretches it across the whole earth. At the moment you were born, every planet sat at a certain angle in the sky. As you move to a different place on the planet, those angles shift. Some places lift a planet to the top of your chart. Some bring it to the horizon. Astrocartography draws these as lines across a world map.

Near a line, that planet's themes get stronger in your life. The lines do not force anything. They make some things easier and some things harder. You still make your own choices. Read this as reflection and decision support. It does not promise money, love, or a cure.

The four lines, explained

Every planet makes four kinds of line. The planet stays the same. What changes is where it sits in the sky when you stand in that place. That position decides which part of your life it touches.

Rising line the Ascendant, planet on the eastern horizon

The planet is coming up, like a sunrise. This is the most personal line. It affects your identity, your energy, your body, and how you come across to others. On a rising line you start to act and feel like that planet. A Sun rising line makes you feel more visible and alive. A Jupiter rising line makes you feel bigger and luckier.

Setting line the Descendant, planet on the western horizon

The planet is going down. This line works through other people. It affects your relationships and what you attract in a partner, a client, or a close friend. On a Venus setting line you meet warmth and love in others. On a Mars setting line you meet strong, driven, sometimes difficult people.

Culminating line the Midheaven or MC, planet at the top of the sky

The planet is at its highest point, like the noon sun. This is the most public line. It affects your career, your reputation, and how the world sees you. On a Venus culminating line your public image turns warm and attractive. On a Saturn culminating line you are seen as serious and hard-working, and the work weighs more.

Roots line the IC, planet at the bottom of the sky

The planet is underground, at the midnight point. This is the most private line. It affects your home, your family, your inner life, and where you feel you belong. On a Sun or Moon roots line you feel at home in your bones. On a Pluto roots line home becomes a place of deep change.

What each planet brings

Sun vitality, confidence, being seen

Moon belonging, comfort, home

Mercury talking, learning, teaching

Venus love, beauty, ease, money

Mars energy, drive, heat

Jupiter growth, luck, opportunity

Saturn work, structure, weight

Uranus freedom, change, surprise

Neptune spirit, dreams, soft focus

Pluto depth, power, transformation

What every line means

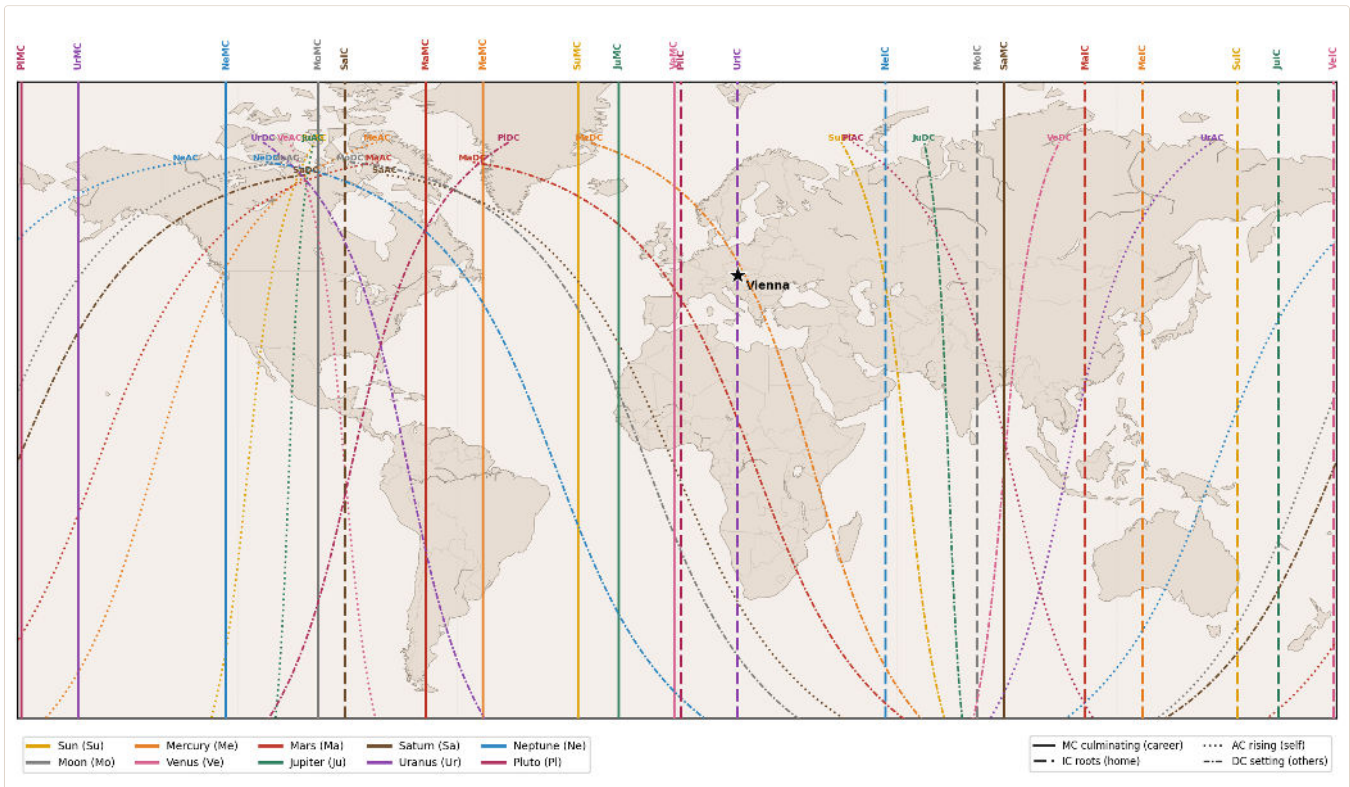

Put a planet together with a line and you get its meaning. This is your decoder. Later in this reading you will see tags like Pluto Setting · 2.9°. Find Pluto in the left column and the Setting line column, and you have it in plain words. Every combination is below.

Planet	Rising line (you)	Setting line (others)	Culminating / MC (career)	Roots / IC (home)
Sun	you feel alive and visible	you are seen through your partners	your work gets noticed	you feel at home in yourself
Moon	your caring side shows	you attract nurturing people	known for how you make people feel	a deep sense of belonging
Mercury	your mind and voice sharpen	you connect through ideas and talk	known for your words and teaching	a good place to study and write
Venus	you feel warm and attractive	love and warmth come more easily	a well-liked, attractive public image	beauty and comfort fill your home
Mars	more energy and drive	you attract strong, driven people	seen as bold and ambitious	a busy, restless home life
Jupiter	you feel luckier and more open	generous people and mentors appear	growth in your career and name	an abundant, safe-feeling home
Saturn	life feels serious, you mature here	committed but weighty relationships	a slow, solid reputation through work	a demanding or lonely home
Uranus	you feel free and different	unusual, on-and-off relationships	an unconventional, changing career	a restless home you keep reinventing
Neptune	dreamy and sensitive	you attract artistic, elusive people	a spiritual image, foggy direction	a soft but unclear sense of home
Pluto	intense personal change	deep, powerful bonds	power and upheaval in your career	home as a place of deep change

The Sun, Moon, Venus, and Jupiter lines are the gentle ones. They tend to feel good. Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto lines are the strong ones. They can grow you, but they ask more of you. Mercury and Mars sit in between.

Your astrocartography map

Here are your lines drawn on the world. Each color is a planet. The line style tells you which of the four kinds it is. Where a line crosses land, that planet is active for you in that place. The closer you stand to a line, the stronger it feels.

Solid line: culminating (MC), your career and public life. Long dashes: roots (IC), your home and inner life. Dotted: rising (AC), your energy and self. Fine dots: setting (DC), your relationships. The black star is Vienna, your home.

This is a lot at once, which is normal. Most people start with the gentle lines on the next page, then come back to this full map when they want the whole picture.

Your chart at a glance

Before the map, here is the sky you were born under. These placements shape what every line means for you.

Point	Sign	What it holds for you
Sun	Pisces 15.4°	Your core self is intuitive and compassionate. You are drawn to healing and meaning.
Moon	Capricorn 5.3°	You feel safe when you build something real and lasting.
Rising (Ascendant)	Leo 16.3°	You meet the world with warmth and presence. People see a teacher and a host.
Midheaven (career)	Taurus 2.2°	Your public path is steady and value-led. You build things that last.
Mercury	Aquarius 18.1°	You think in original, big-picture ways. You teach groups well.
Venus	Aries 13.7°	You love directly and you start things with heart.
Mars	Aquarius 2.5°	Your drive is independent and community-minded.
Jupiter	Pisces 27.1°	You grow through compassion and spiritual work. Jupiter is at full strength in a sign it rules.
Saturn	Cancer 12.0°	Your hardest lessons sit around home, roots, and emotional security.
Uranus	Scorpio 2.1°	A generational placement. It is the planet behind your Vienna home line.
Neptune	Sagittarius 11.8°	A generational placement. It is the planet behind your Pacific Northwest spirit lines.
Pluto	Libra 8.5°	A generational placement. It is the planet behind your London and Paris depth lines.

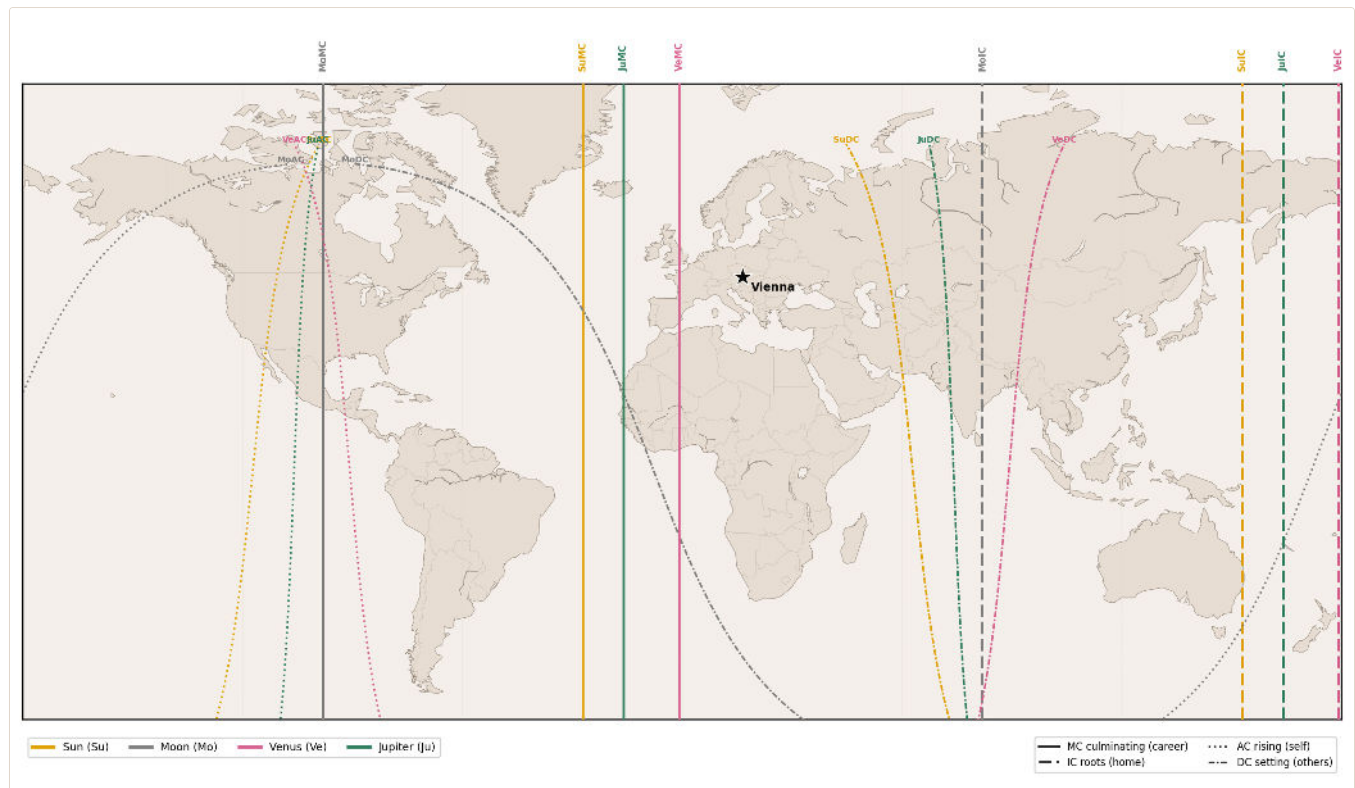

Here is what stands out. Your Sun and Jupiter are both in Pisces: you are drawn to meaning, healing, and service, and you grow through compassion and spiritual work. Your Moon is in Capricorn and your Midheaven in Taurus: you feel safe when you build something real and lasting, and your public path grows slowly and holds. Spiritual on the inside, builder on the outside.

Mercury and Mars are both in Aquarius: you think in original, big-picture ways, you teach groups well, and your drive is independent and community-minded. Venus in Aries loves directly and starts things with heart. Saturn in Cancer places your long lessons around home, roots, and emotional security, which makes the home lines in this reading matter more than usual.

Your rising sign is Leo, so people put you at the front of the room. And one placement matters most for this report: Jupiter sits in Pisces, a sign it traditionally rules, at full strength. A chart wired to teach and heal in public, with a strong Jupiter: place and travel work hard for you, and this map shows exactly where.

Where you would feel happiest

The lines of belonging, joy, and luck.

Your four gentle lines only, for a clearer view. The dashed Sun and Moon roots lines mark where you feel most at home. The dotted Jupiter rising line marks where you feel luckiest.

The gentle lines are the ones that usually feel good: the Sun and Moon at your roots, and Jupiter anywhere. These are your strongest places to feel at home and content.

East Australia • Sun on your Roots line (Gold Coast 0.5°, Brisbane 0.6°, Byron Bay 0.9°, Sydney 1.4°)

Your Sun sits at the base of your chart along the east coast of Australia. Sun roots is the feel-like-yourself-at-home line: warmth, ease, and quiet confidence in your private life. If you have ever felt drawn to this part of the world, this line is the reason.

What to do with it: this is your ground for a long stay that restores you. A month here would answer whether it is also a place to live part of the year.

Sri Lanka & southeast India · Moon on your Roots line (Batticaloa 0.4°, Trincomalee 1.0°, Visakhapatnam 1.2°, Kandy 1.5°, Galle 1.8°, Chennai 1.9°)

Your Moon line runs almost exactly down the east coast of Sri Lanka. The Moon at the roots is the deepest belonging line there is: rest, emotional safety, the feeling of being held. To be clear about what it is for: this is a rest line, not a work line.

What to do with it: keep it for the seasons when you mainly need recovery, or for running a retreat where rest is the point.

Mexico & the US mountain west · Jupiter on your Rising line (Puerto Vallarta 0.4°, Rapid City 0.5°, Colorado Springs 0.5°, Cheyenne 0.6°, Denver 0.7°, Boulder 0.9°, Santa Fe 1.3°, Guadalajara 1.7°)

Jupiter rising is the luck line: you feel bigger, more open, and more hopeful in your own skin. Yours crosses the Mexican Pacific coast and runs up through the American Rockies. Around Mexico City and Austin your Moon culminates too (1.2° and 0.4°), so in that region you are also known and welcomed for how you care.

What to do with it: launches, retreats you lead, decisions that need courage. This is where your confidence works for you.

London & Edinburgh · Venus on your Culminating line (London 0.6°, Edinburgh 1.4°, Glasgow 2.0°)

Venus at the top of your chart makes your public face warm and liked. In Britain your work is welcomed and people want to say yes to you: good ground for teaching, events, and partnerships around your business.

One honest note: your Pluto roots line also runs near London (0.9°) and Paris (1.2°). Work there, enjoy it, be received well. A long stay would pull on home life more than the visits suggest.

Love and connection: your Venus and Moon lines

Where warmth finds you, and where you can rest.

Your Venus is in Aries: you love directly, you like to start things, and warmth shows fast. Your Moon is in Capricorn: you bond by building a life with someone, slowly and reliably. Put together, you start bold and stay steady. Here are the places where your map helps.

Where you feel most attractive • Venus on your Rising line (Kansas City 0.1°, Omaha 0.8°, Des Moines 1.2°, Minneapolis 1.7°)

A surprise in your map: your Venus rising line runs straight through the American Midwest. On this line you feel and look your best, and people respond to it. Worth knowing for any US trip.

Where people open up to you • Mercury on your Setting line (Athens 0.4°, Copenhagen 0.4°, Budapest 0.5°, Berlin 1.0°, Vienna 1.3°, Oslo 1.4°)

Mercury on the relationship line brings people who talk, listen, and think out loud with you. It runs through central Europe, and Vienna sits on it. You built a life of teaching and correspondence from this city, and the line fits that exactly.

To be known for your care • Moon on your Culminating line (Austin 0.4°, Mexico City 1.2°, Dallas 1.3°, Oaxaca 1.5°)

The Moon at the top of the chart makes you publicly known for how you make people feel. From Texas down through central Mexico, your caring side is what people see first and remember.

A warm public welcome • Venus on your Culminating line (London 0.6°, Edinburgh 1.4°)

The same British line from the previous section works for connection too: people meet you kindly there, in business and in friendship.

Handle with care in love • Mars and Pluto on your Setting lines (Mars: Barcelona 0.4°, Palma 0.5°, Galway 0.5°, Dublin 1.4°. Pluto: Havana 1.1°, Washington 1.3°, Montreal 1.6°)

On the Mars line through eastern Spain and western Ireland you attract driven, hot-tempered people: strong chemistry, frequent friction. On the Pluto line through Havana, Washington, and Montreal, bonds run deep and heavy. Not forbidden places. Just know what tends to walk in, and take your time.

Your home ground: Vienna

Start where you are. Unlike most people, you live almost exactly on your own lines. Two of them run through Vienna, and they explain a lot about the life you have built here.

Vienna • Uranus on your Roots line (0.2°, very tight)

The roots line is home and family, and Uranus is freedom, change, and reinvention. With Uranus this close, home life resists routine: you need space to do things your own way, and you keep reinventing your home and your work from home. It fits a woman who rebuilt her working life around teaching and healing. The practical task: design your home and schedule so change has room.

Vienna • Mercury on your Setting line (1.3°)

A softer line that favors connection through talking, teaching, and writing. Your courses, messages, and one-to-one work land well from here. Vienna is a strong base to build an audience by word, and you have.

Your nearest gentle ground • London, two hours away (Venus Culminating 0.6°)

The closest strong feel-good line to your life is the Venus line over Britain. A London work trip, a workshop, or an event there is the cheapest test of a gentle line in your whole map.

Every city, and your lines there

This is the full map, city by city. Each colored tag is one of your lines, and the plain words next to it tell you what it brings. The number is the orb, the distance in degrees from the exact line. Smaller means stronger. Where a city has more than one line, the closest sits on top. To decode any tag yourself, use the table on the "What every line means" page.

deep color very strong, within 1.5° warm tag clear, within 2.5° soft tag mild, within 4° Quiet ground means no major line nearby, a neutral place for you.

Handle with care

Some lines bring pressure. Your Pluto roots line runs near London, Paris, Barcelona, and Ibiza: deep change at home, heavy for a long stay, fine for visits. Note that London carries both this line and your warm Venus career line, so work there and live elsewhere. Your Neptune culminating line covers the Pacific Northwest from San Francisco to Vancouver: beautiful for spiritual work and image, foggy for money and direction, so keep contracts clear there. Your Mars setting line through eastern Spain and the Balearic Islands heats up relationships and rest alike. And Beijing sits almost exactly on your Uranus rising line, where life turns unpredictable fast.

Your action plan

Three experiments, in order of effort.

A reading only becomes useful when you test it. Treat each line as an idea to test, not a promise. Here is how to run the experiment: stay three to seven days, keep a short nightly note (energy, sleep, mood, the people you met, anything that went unusually right or wrong), and compare it honestly with an ordinary week at home. One trip will teach you more than any chart.

Experiment 1, a weekend · London (Venus Culminating 0.6° , about two hours by air from Vienna)

The lowest cost test of a gentle line. Go with something public on the calendar: a workshop, a meetup, a talk. Notice whether people receive you more warmly than at home. If they do, that is the line working, and it is a place to aim your business at.

Experiment 2, a week · Denver and Santa Fe, or Puerto Vallarta (Jupiter Rising 0.4° – 1.3°)

Your luck line. Bring a decision you have been circling or a project you want to start. Jupiter rising favors saying yes, so write down what you decide there and give it two weeks at home before acting on it.

Experiment 3, the big one · East Australia, with Sri Lanka as the rest option (Sun Roots 0.5° – 1.4° ; Moon Roots 0.4°)

When you can take two to four weeks, test the Gold Coast and Brisbane. This is your feel-at-home line, and the question it answers is big: is this a place to spend part of every year? If what you need is rest rather than a new base, the east coast of Sri Lanka is the strongest rest ground you have.

Using your lines without moving

You do not have to travel at all to work with this map. Aim your offers and events at Britain, where your Venus career line makes your work welcome. Build partnerships toward Mumbai and Goa, where Jupiter setting brings mentors and generous allies. Use the Pacific Northwest for spiritual collaborations, with clear written terms. And your Vienna base already sits on your teach-by-word line, which is why working from here works. A line also works when you run a retreat there, take clients from that region, or time a launch to a trip.

When not to chase a line

Living on your lines, as you do in Vienna, is not something to escape. It is a base that already works. It is a stable base, and plenty of people do their best work from one. Pick one goal at a time. Pick the place that supports it. Test it with a short trip and notice how you feel. Let real experience, not only the chart, guide the bigger choices.

This reading is offered for reflection and decision support only. It describes tendencies in an astrological map. It does not promise any outcome and is not medical, legal, or financial advice. You remain in charge of your own choices. Prepared by Susanne Ritsch, Blissful Careers. Chart calculated with the Swiss Ephemeris for 6 March 1975, 15:00 (CET), Vienna, Austria.
